

Graduate Students Study Abroad Program

Ministry of Science and Technology, Republic of China (Taiwan)

Introduction

The Graduate Students Study Abroad Program, sponsored by Ministry of Science and Technology (MOST), is intended to subsidize Taiwanese Ph.D. students to conduct research at an accredited educational institute abroad. The goal of this program is to encourage participants to gain international experience, to expand their research training and pave a way for future international collaborations, for a maximum of twelve months.

Eligibility

- The applicant must be a citizen of the Republic of China (Taiwan).
- The applicant must be a Ph.D. student currently enrolled in a Ph.D. program of an accredited educational institute in Taiwan and has completed at least one year study in the Ph.D. program.
- The applicant must file the grant application through his/her enrolled school.
- Those who have received grant under this Study Abroad Program are not eligible to apply.

Evaluation

Each application will be evaluated by experts and scholars in related fields with evaluation criteria including applicants' past academic performance, development potential in research, ability for project execution, foreign language proficiency, research theme, and suitability of foreign research institutions or advisor.

Award

- The grant period can range from seven to twelve months and cannot be staggered or extended.
- The amount of grant is based on the grant period, ranging up to a maximum of 900,000 NT dollars (about 30,000 US dollars) for a twelve-month study.

- The grant period starts on the following date which comes the later: 1. the date for the grant recipient to arrive at the host institute, or 2. the date to complete signing of the binding contract.
- Due to fund limitation, only the grant recipients themselves rather than the institutes or advisors will be subsidized by the Ministry of Science and Technology.
- During the recipient's stay, all office space and related equipment for research shall be provided by the host institutes or advisors.

Important Dates:

- Application Period: June 1st to July 31st (via the MOST online system)
- Submission Deadline: 12:00 pm, July 31st (through applicant's enrolled university)
- Announcement of the Grant Results: November 30th (might be extended when necessary)
- The Starting Date of the Grant: between January 1st and October 31st of the following year

Notes

1. During the subsidy period, the total number of days of leave of absence to return to Taiwan shall not exceed 30 days, and no subsidies shall be paid during the period of return. If the total number of days of leave of absence to return to Taiwan is more than 30 days or the total number of overseas study days is less than 180 days, the full subsidy must be return.
2. During the grant period, the recipient may not be subsidized by other study abroad scholarships or relevant fees for attendance at international conferences in overseas from any R.O.C. (Taiwan) government.
